Foreign investors made 14 mn$ sell in October, 178 mn$ sell in November, 180 mn$ buy in December.

Inflation is expected to be, with 70 percent probability, between 5.5 percent and 8.5 percent (with a mid-point of 7 percent) at end-2018. On the other hand, the consumer inflation forecast for the end of 2018 is revised up by 0.6 points from the July report. More specifically, the assumption for TL-denominated import prices updated in line with higher oil prices pushes the inflation forecast up by 0.4 points. Meanwhile, the upward revision to the output gap is expected to bring the end-2018 inflation forecast up by 0.1 points.

S&P, global ratings affirmed its unsolicited 'BB/B' foreign currency long- and short-term sovereign credit ratings and its unsolicited 'BB+/B' local currency long- and short-term sovereign credit ratings on the Republic of Turkey. The outlook remains negative.

S&P could revise the outlook to stable if Turkey's fiscal position remained in line with a moderating government debt-to-GDP ratio and if inflationary pressures abate.

Borrowing rate has been kept at 0 percent, while lending rate has been increased from 12.25 percent to 12.75 percent.

During year 2017, aggregate demand conditions have displayed a strong course and credit has shown rapid growth.
